A Splendid Gathering and Great Enthus! -A Number of Ladies Present-Fing-

[Special iciegram to the Dispatch.]
COVINGTON, VA., September 8.—
One of the largest mass-meetings ever held in the county of Alleghany was the Democratic meeting held here today. There were several hundred people in attendance—a number of them from adjoining counties. At an early hour in the morning the Democratic Club of Covington raised a pole eighty feet high and unfurled to the breeze one of the first Democratic banners of the of the first Democratic banners of the campaign. It is a large United States flag, with the names of the Democratic standard-bearers—Lee, Massey, and Ayers—in large white letters on one side, and on the other Jones and Hobbs, candidates for the Senate and House.

At 12 o'clock the club, under the command of its chief and County Chair-man James Bowles, one hundred with a brass band, escorted General Fitz Lee, Hon. John W. Daniel, and Mr. Hobbs, the candidate to represent the counties of Bath, Alleghany, and Highland in the House, from the hotel to the court-green, where the mass-meeting was held. Around the speaker's stand were seated a hundred dred or more ladies, numbers of them with bouquets of flowers.

The speakers, upon taking their seats on the stand, were greeted with loud and prolonged cheers. Mr. Hobbs was the first speaker, and was followed by General Lee, who spoke two hours. His speech was the best that has been delivered by him during the canvass, and produced a most excellent effect. Then followed Daniel. Daniel's arraignment of Mahone, Wise, and Blair was fearful. He had not spoken more than half an hour when the rain commenced to fall. In a few minutes the chairman of the meeting announced that Page Morris, who had been speaking to a small assembly of Republicans in the court-house, had vacated it. The court-house was then densely packed with Democrats, and Daniel resumed his speech, speaking over two hours.

Some old campaigners who were present said that he excelled himself, and during his speech he was frequent-ly interrupted by applause, and when he asked if the people assembled would vote for Wise, who had denounced the Democrats of Virginia as robbers, assassins, &c., in preference to Lee, the gallant soldier and farmer, with one voice the answer was: "No! No Hurrah for Lee, Massey, and Ayers!

At the close of Daniel's speech the band struck up Dixie, and the people rose to their feet, Daniel leading, giving three cheers for Fitz Lee, the next Governor of Virginia. Three cheers were then given for Daniel. The Republican meeting was not as largely attended as Republican meetings here usually are. The legislative dis trict elected a Democrat in 1883 to the To-night Lee and Daniel spoke to a large meeting at Clifton Forge. SHERMAN'S DEFENCE.

His Reply to Governor Hondly's Recent Speech.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] LEBANON, OHIO, September 8 .ator John Sherman delivered a speech here to-night devoted mainly to replying to the address of Governor Hoadly. The Senator claimed that the Governor had not fairly stated the speaker's position, and that he had evaded and oided the important issues growing out of the condition of affairs in the South. The Senator reiterated that the war was over and he only demanded what was fairly won by the soldiers in the war. Six millions of people were emancipated and enchised by the war and the constitutional amendments, made with the personal approval of Governor Hoadly, as a result of which they were entitled to vote, and were granted representation in Congress and in the Electoral College. They had practically been denied many of the necessary incidents of liberty, among the most precious of which is the right to free discussion, and they were now franchised, and thus openly and boldly deprived of all safe-guards by which alone their liberties could be preserved. The speaker claimed that in scarcely a district of the South was there any pretence of a fair election. and the negroes were openly defrauded by every device the ingenuity of crime could invent. The speaker declared that Governor Hoadly could not deny this in the face of accumulated testimony. This was not only unjust to the colored men, but was unjust to the white men of the North. "The effect of the crimes I have mentioned," said the speaker, "is to confer upon the people of the South not only the number of votes to which they are entitled for the white population, but also thirty-eight votes based upon the col-ored population, and in this way in some of the southern States every white voter possesses the political power of two white voters in the northern States. The colored people have practically no voice in Congress and no voice in the Electoral College. Mr. Cleveland is now P. exident of the United States instead of James G. Blaine by reason of these crimes. I claim this should be corrected. An injustice so gross and palpable will not of the South, nor by fair-minded white men in the South who hate wrong and injustice, nor by the great body of the northern people, by whose sacrifices in the Union cause the war was brought to a successful termination. .

"In South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Mississippi, and Louisiana, fair elections would at once correct this evil, but it will be resisted as a matter of course by the dominant ele ment that now controls the South. . . .

" If the policy of the past is to be pursued, and there is no redress for e colored people of the South these offences committed under color of State law, then under the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution we may fairly appeal to all the northern States to stand together to reduce the representation based upon the colored vote, and on this question Governor Hoadly ought to be where he was during the

The speaker said a contest was now going on in Virginia, led by prominent leaders in the rebel army, to secure the equal political rights of all citizens. Senator Sherman finally said that Government and the said that Government and the said that the sai ernor Hoadly did not seem to understand the distinction between a man who favors the Mississippian policy and such men as Key and Akerman, who did all they could to put down the ku-

ANOTHER DISAPPOINTMENT. The International Yacht Race Again Postponed-An Accident the Cause.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] SANDY HOOK, N. J., September 8. The lower bay was as full of yachts today as yesterday, when the Puritan and Genesta drifted over the course, but not within the prescribed seven hours, and so failed to make the race for the American cup.

The Puritan and the Genesta

under way shortly after 10 A. M., when the judges' boat Luckenback and stake-boat Ocean King came near their anchorage, and soon got under sail, and both passed outside the Hook near together at 10:25 A. M. The wind was from the southeast. The weather was fair, and the prospects were good for a fine race to-day. Puritan and Genesta, in drawing near Scotland light-ship, from which point the start was to be made to-day, fouled each other, the Puritan carrying away the Genesta's bowsprit, while the former's mainsail was badly torn. HOW THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED.

THE HIGHLANDS, September 8 .-When the yachts came in view from Sandy Hook the Genesta and Puritan were in close company and making sail for Scotland light-ship. The red, white, and blue pennant of the Puritan white, and blue pennant of the Puritan was first seen. The yachts were less than fifty yards apart when off the Highlands. At 11:20 o'clock the skipper of the Genesta pointed right toward the Puritan in an endeavor to take the latter's wind away. The captain of the Puritan believed he could cross the Genesta's bow and tried to do so. The result was a foul, in which the Genesta's bowsprit was carried away and the mainsail of the Puritan badly torn. The consternation on the judges' boat and on the yachts was great, and those who were not near enough to see were afraid that the vachts were injured below the waterine. It was a foul pure and simple ue to the fact that her skipper thought he could bring her before the wind faster than he did. The hole in the Puritan's mainsail is in the after-leech. in the lower corner, and, of course, renders her useless. It was only by luck that further accidents were averted. for after the collision all the visiting and attendant yachts ran up close to the Puritan and Genesta, and several

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF IT. SANDY HOOK, N. J., September 8 .-As far as can be learned the Puritan was at fault in fouling, but it might have been avoided by the Genesta if she had acted differently. Both yachts had noticed the preparatory signal of the judges' boat and were close to-gether. The Genesta was near the gether. The Genesta was near the light-ship, and the Puritan was close astern of her. The cutter tacked, but the Puritan did not follow suit, and the bowsprit of the Genesta went into the mainsail of the Puritan just over the boom, near the leech. The next moment the Genesta's bowsprit was broken off close to the stem, the forestaysail standing. The hole in the Puritan's sail was not very large, and could easily have been repaired but the Genesta set a signal protesting against the race, and as they had not vet been started her protest was noted and the yachts were towed back to New York. It was a pity, as there was just wind enough to have made a splendid race. The damage to the Genesta will take some time to repair, and probably the Puritan may have suffered some damage which was not observed from here. THE RACE GIVEN TO THE GENESTA.

BUT REFUSED.

NEW YORK, September 8 .- The Puritan's people being entirely at fault for to-day's collision off Scotland light. the committee ruled the Puritan out, and told Sir Richard Sutton that he might sail over the course if he wished. The fears of a negro riot were groundless, and the military dispersed at midnight, never having appeared on the street in company. Governor Scales.

To-day the Governor offered a re-ward of $150 for the arrest of William Petteway, a negro, who, in Carteret county, recently brutally murdered his wife. He told friends that he would take his wife to Newberne from his home in Carteret by boat. They sailed away, but after going a few miles Pet-teway landed, killed the woman, and buried her body under a stump upon a hillock near by. There it was found days afterward. Petteway has taken refuge in the swamps, or gone to Virginia, near the Dismal swamp.

Captain Richard P. Fulgham died at the Insane Asylum here yesterday. He had been an inmate three years. He served gallantly in a North Carolina regiment and on the staff of General Lawrence S. Baker. After the war he was engaged in the newspaper business at Goldsboro' and here. For a time he was associated with the Raleigh News. He was several years secretary of the State Agricultural Society. He became editor of the Greensboro' Patriot, which he conducted for some time.

A report received on the ballasting of the Raleigh and Gaston railway shows that twenty miles have been completed, or about one fourth of the road. Reports received from Salisbury, Winston, Greensboro', Warrenton, Durham, Franklinton, Henderson, and other points show that the season is marked by the erection of an unusual

MYSTERIOUS DEATHS.

Four Persons Die Under Poculiar Circumstances.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] URBANA. ILL., September 8 .- There is much excitement at St. Joseph, in this county, over three mysterious deaths which have occurred within short time in one family-Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Peabody, prominent and honored residents; Miss Belle Hasty, daughter of Robert Hasty, and a young woman engaged to young Silas Peabody. Young Peabody's parents, particularly his mother, were opposed to his marriage, owing to Miss Hasty's poor health. On August 2d Mrs. Peabody died very suddenly of what appeared to be neuralgia of the stomach. On August 17th Mr. Peabody died with the same symptoms. On September 1st Miss Hasty and young Silas Peabolly were taken with the same symptoms, and the young lady died, while the young man has recovered. Since that time suspicion has been awakened, by the alleged discovery of a package of ratpoison pinned to an undergarment which Miss Hasty had laid off just before her death, that the latter had poisoned Mr. and Mrs. Peabody, with the hope of marrying their son, and then concluded to kill him and herself. FOUND AT WINNIPEG.

The Defaulting President of the St. Albam Savings Bank Caught.

A Winnipeg special says: About six months ago a St. Albans (Vt.) savings bank had to shut up on account of the crookedness of its president, Lawrence Brainerd, the defalcations amounting to several hundred thousand lars. Brainerd was arrested, and the affair created great excitement at the time, as a large number of the poorer portion of the commu-nity lost their savings. The defaulter was subsequently released on bail, but, breaking his bond, made his way with his wife to Winnipeg, where he has been in hiding. Detectives were on his track, however, and, notwithstanding the fact that his offence was not extraditable, they determined to get Brain-erd across the boundary line by fair

This impres-sion he artfully fostered, and mean while he formed the acquaintance of Law-rence Brainerd, and after a few weeks' intimacy confidentially informed the guileless ex-president that he himself was a "crook," and had skipped across the line. From this date the intimacy ripened, and very soon the two men were seen out driving together, several pleasant excursions taking place. On Saturday last Brainerd, who went

As her hus-band did not return Mrs. Brainerd became uneasy and took counsel with a city barrister, who at once communicated with the chief of police here.

The chief, with a couple of his men, started in pursuit of Brainerd and the detective. While speeding toward the oundary line their rig was smashed by an accident, and they were compelle to return to the city on foot.

Determined not to give up the chase the chief, with Mrs. Brainerd and her lawyer, went South by train on Sunday afternoon, crossing the boundary line at Pembina. The chief instituted inquiries, and learned that Brainerd and detectives were at a hotel to which the chief and his companions went. The nissing men were found there, and during the interview which followed Brainerd said he had not been kidnapped in the strict sense of the word. He said that when he and his companion got well out on the prairie they were met by another detective, whom he knew, having met him in the eastern States, and, after shaking hands, this detective said : " Mr. Brainerd, you will have to go along with me."

Brainerd asked why? and a warrant or some such document was produced. He then consented to go with the detectives, but asked to be allowed to return to his wife. This request they refused, and the three got into the carriage and drove to Emerson, and thence across the boundary line to where they were found. Various small towns on the road down were not avoided in the least, so that if Brainerd had wished he could have called for assistance.

While the captors of Brainerd were talking with Chief Murray the prisoner was given a chance to escape and re-turn to Canadian soil, but he refused to take it. He will be taken East to the

HOW WARD DID BUSINESS. Where the $150,000 which General Grant

Borrowed of Vanderbilt Went. A New York telegram says : Ferdinand Ward was on the witness-stand Monday in the case of Holt vs. Warner. He testified that on March 1, 1884, W. Warner held the obligations of Grant & Ward for sums amounting to $1,000,000. Ward and Warner de-termined to consolidate the indebtedness into a series of five bonds, with coupons payable monthly. Twenty cent. interest was to be paid per cent. interest was to be monthly on each. The first cou amounting to $146,000, due April 5th. were paid. The second, amounting to $22,800, due May 5th, were paid, part in cash and part in new obligations. Grant & Ward failed May 6th. The other coupons were for $200,000 a month up to September 5th, when the $1,000,000 was payable. The total profit to Warner would have been $1,167,000. Warner also did other business with Ward, in which he reinvested some of the money paid on the coupons. He put in various sums until on March 31st they reached $285,000, when they were consolidated into another coupon bond at the old rate of 20 per cent. The principal was payable October 10th, and with the in-terest added would then amount to $644,100. Another bond was drawn on April 1st for $25,000, which was to amount to $56,500 on October 10th. Another, for $175,000, was to amount to $245,000 on June 1st. The sum of $35,000 was paid on this bond May 1st. and Warner reinvested $25,000, receiving a check for $10,000. April 5th a $70,000 bond was drawn to amount to $156,000 on October 10th. There were numerous other smaller transactions in April. Ward paid Warner on May 3d $81,000, and on May 5th $71,800. The money which he gave Warner is believed to be the $150,000 which General Grant borrowed of W. H. Vanderbilt. Ward said that May 7th, the day after the failure, Warner came to his house and made him turn over all his property, worth about 8500,000, and in return surrendered 8578,560 of the obligations of Grant & Ward held by him. They were chiefly the latter's bonds issued to Warner. One was a due-bill for $3,500 issued by Ward to Warner for the latter's services in procuring the discount of a note drawn by the Union Dry-Dock Company and endorsed by the Erie rail-

King Alfonso Expresses Confidence in His Cabinet.
[By cable to the Dispatch.]

MADRID, September S.—An authorized report is published that at the Cabinet council Señor Canovas Del Castillo told King Alfonso that unless he trusted the ministry he would summon Señor Segasta, whose energy would probably bring about a rupture with Germany and increase the popularity Germany and increase the popularity of King Alfonso. At the same time he deprecated such a course until diplomacy had been exhausted. King Alfonso, with-out hesitation, decided he had confidence in Senor Canovas's Cabinet, and would maintain it in preference to popularity with the people at the expense of bloodshed. His Majesty was convinced that Emperor William would meet him half way in his desire for peace. King Alfonso telegraphed Count Benemar, the Spanish Ambassador at Berlin, accordingly. Court and official circles are confident that either by means of an arbiter or negotiations Spain will re-tain possession of the Caroline Islands. PROBABILITY OF A NEW PREMIER. LONDON, September 8 .- Though the report that General Lopez Dominguez has succeeded to the head of the Spanish Government is not verified, it is generalbelieved that he will be appointed remier. He is the only general who is able to suppress the present popular sgitation, or, if out of office, could counteract King Alfonso's desire for peace with Germany. He is a very able officer, and has great influence with the army in either direction. TALK OF REVOLUTION IN SPAIN PARIS, September 8 .- A majority of the newspapers in this city expect that the strong anti-German feeling provoked throughout Spain by the Ca-rolines affair will result in a revolution in that country, as the people manifest a hostile feeling towards King Alfonso and his Ministry for their action respecting the German occupation of Yap. Spain's note in reply, which was dispatched to-night, expresses deep regret at the occurrence of the incident; says that the offenders will be prosecuted and punished, and that those responsible for the safety of the Embassy have been arrested and dismissed from the service, and condemns the action of the riotous mob. Last week Sterrett and this gun found their way to Henderson county on a camp-hunt. They were given a large bay mule and one spur to hunt with. Sterrett and the gun deserve much credit for the way in which they engineered the mule through the woods with one spur. Sterrett had the woods with one spur. Sterrett had the spur on his right foot, and the injuries on the left leg are remarkably few, considering that the mule went kind of "catawampused." Sterrett and the gun were put on a stand out of gunshot of any one else. As the dogs and deer approached Sterrett, becan to match the spur of the standard sterrett, becan to match the spur of the deer approached Sterrett began to ma-nipulate his gun. The railroad was only some two miles distant, and people in the neighborhood the thought that an engine had jumped the track and right of way and was out in the woods. Soon six explosions were heard. Sterrett had shot! All the hounds escaped to camp, and Sterrett had only wounded one. Sterrett's fine pair of hounds were both unhurt. The one that was hurt didn't know Sterrett and approached too near. About six hours afterwards Sterrett and the gun came into camp. Their excuse for being so late was that Sterrett had to change the spur from one foot to the other in order to keep his course. Sterrett has been hu heretofore with a horse-pistol, and a gun is about to get the best of him. The party stayed on the hunt for several days, but they could not influence the hounds to go into the woods with Sterrett and the gun.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

New York, Replember 8.—In tarket has been comparatively on my and at times feverian, especial; he first hour. After a small adv day and at times feverish, especially during the first hour. After a simil advance in entity dealings there was a break of 4 to 13, and the lowest quorations of the day were reached at the end of the first had bour. After 11 o'clock prices became more steady and dealings, except occasional equations, when there was again some afternoon, when there was again some anow of business, accompanied by an upward movement that was continued until the close of in-9 oned. In a majority of cases the final prices are the highest of the day and % to be, higher then the closing quotations yesterday. New York Central and St. Paul show a gain of % each Louisville and Nashville are up 13 and Onaha preferred. 1%, while Northern Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, and Erience unchanged. The unexpected reduction in the Lenigh Vailey dividend is accepted as an indeation of a very unantisfactory condition of the coal trade, and there is much speculation as to the probabilities of a reduction by Lackawanna in the amount of its next dividend. The Joke of the Poard this afternoon was that the company would declare the usual amount and pay it needs. It has been finally so 'lled that the Chicago, Eurlington and Quincy will build its extension into St. Paul territory, which is expected to lead to a railroad fight. Western Union and Missouri Pacific declared the usual dividends to-day. Bales, 236,000 shares.

RICHMOND TOBACCO MARKET. SEPTEMBER 8, 1885, The leaf-tobacco market, as evidenced b private sales rather than sales on 'Change private sales rather than sales on Change, is developing speculative a rength, as rains have not fallen lately, and ballcrop reports continue to be circulated. Certain it is that the old bright-tobacco counties are suffering very severely from the drought, and the loss is wellnigh irreparable in this crop. Still there are sections that will make fine leaf so far as heard from. Prices are very firm at the advance, and speculative powers appear never to have been more confident of success.

Bishop Warren's Rich Wife. [Philadelphia Times.]
One of the richest women in Denver

is Mrs. Bishop Warren, of whom so much has been written since her marriage with the handsome and gifted Methodist preacher. Many years ago this lady went to Denver a poor, was her fortune, for as she bravely plied her trade she was wooed and ron by one Iliff, a miner, and when he finally died he left her a fortune of several million dollars. Mrs. Iliff was several million dollars. Mrs. Hitf was a devout Methodist, and Denver gossipa tell that Bishop Simpson sent Bishop Warren to that city on purpose to marry the millionaire widow. Their wedding was a popular one, every Methodist in Denver being invited.
